Message box: Dear Secretary Sebilious,

I understand and respect the religious views of those against abortion. But in this country over all religious objections, abortion is legal! The people who scream the loudest against abortion and are in a great hurry to get these fetuses born seem to be the same people who vote against funding for programs to help feed, educate and allow access to health care for these 'born' children. I believe women are smart enough to make decisions that suit their own needs without 'help' from outside sources.
